

Contents

List of illustrations	xi
Prologue by Mark Solms	xii
Introduction by Marina Altmann de Litvan	xvi
Note on the IPA's Committee for Clinical Research in Psychoanalysis by David Taylor	xxx

PART I

From clinical practice to clinical research

1 The mysterious leap from clinical practice to clinical research	3
LIANA PINTO CHAVES
2 What is clinical research in psychoanalysis?: Some comments on its scientific background	11
ANNA URSULA DREHER
3 Commentary by Judy Kantrowitz	27

PART II

Different perspectives on clinical research

4 Researching subjectivity: Single-case studies and psychoanalytic knowledge	33
ROBERT DOUGLAS HINSHELWOOD
5 Discussion by Charles Hanly	54
6 Moving from clinical inquiry to clinical research	65
RICARDO BERNARDI

- 7 Improving the interface: Comments on Bernardi: Moving from clinical inquiry to clinical research 84
HORST KÄCHELE
- 8 What is 'clinical research'? Historical, epistemological, and methodological remarks on the relevance of clinical research in times of theoretical and scientific pluralism 89
MARIANNE LEUZINGER-BOHLEBER
- 9 Discussion by Bradley S. Peterson: Scientific investigation in psychoanalysis 108
BRADLEY S. PETERSON

PART III

Working with metaphors in psychoanalytic practice 117

- 10 Clinical research: The role of metaphors in the analytic process 119
ANA-MARÍA RIZZUTO
- 11 Metaphors for the patient's self as a multiple bridge for clinical research 134
BEATRIZ DE LEÓN DE BERNARDI

PART IV

Working parties as research tools? 149

- 12 Working parties as clinical research 151
WILLIAM GLOVER AND BERNARD REITH
- 13 Opening psychoanalytic space in first interviews: An overview of the aims and findings of the EPF Working Party on Initiating Psychoanalysis 161
BERNARD REITH
- 14 Is the Three-Level Model a clinical research tool? 171
MARINA ALTMANN DE LITVAN, RICARDO BERNARDI AND MARGARET ANN FITZPATRICK-HANLY
- 15 The Working Party on Comparative Clinical Methods (CCM) and the Investigation in Psychoanalysis 183
JOSÉ CARLOS CALICH

- 16 Clinical groups on the specificity of psychoanalysis today: A new research method for clinical understanding 188
ANA MARÍA CHABALGOITY, CÉSAR LUÍS DE SOUZA BRITO AND EMA PONCE DE LEÓN
- 17 Faimberg's Listening to Listening method 195
HAYDÉE FAIMBERG
- 18 Developing the capacity for clinical investigation: The Working Party Microscopy of the Analytic Session 202
ROOSEVELT M.S CASSORLA, ANA CLARA DUARTE GAVIÃO AND CLÁUDIA APARECIDA CARNEIRO

PART V

- Working parties in action 215
- 19 Zoe 217
LUISA PÉREZ SUQUILVIDE
- 20 Panel: How are metaphors identified and elaborated by the different working parties? 220
ELIZABETH LIMA DA ROCHA BARROS
- 21 A clinical illustration on the Working Party on the Specificity of Psychoanalytic Treatment Today – Latin American Group 236
CÉSAR LUÍS DE SOUZA BRITO AND ANA MARÍA CHABALGOITY
- 22 Metaphor transformations in the 3-LM: A systematic clinical exercise with Zoe's case 254
ANDREA RODRÍGUEZ QUIROGA DE PEREIRA, BRUNO SALESIO AND ADELA LEIBOVICH DE DUARTE
- 23 A descriptive comparison of first interviews under the light of 3-LM and initiating psychoanalysis 275
ANDREA RODRÍGUEZ QUIROGA DE PEREIRA

PART VI

- Final considerations and questions raised 283
- 24 The impact of clinical investigation on the analyst 285
VERA REGINA FONSECA

25	The analyst's perspective: Commonalities and differences of working parties on a clinical material	292
	LUISA PÉREZ SUQUILVIDE
26	Clinical psychoanalytic research with the working party method: State of the Art	296
	RUDI VERMOTÉ
27	Working groups and the search for clinical evidence	312
	RICARDO BERNARDI
28	Clinical research in working parties through metaphors	324
	MARINA ALTMANN DE LITVAN

Index

335