

On Freud's "Femininity"

Edited by Leticia Glocer Fiorini and Graciela Abelin-Sas Rose

Series Editor: Leticia Glocer Fiorini

CONTEMPORARY FREUD
TURNING POINTS
& CRITICAL ISSUES

KARNAC

CONTENTS

CONTEMPORARY FREUD

IPA Publications Committee

vii

EDITORS AND CONTRIBUTORS

ix

Introduction

Leticia Glocer Fiorini & Graciela Abelin-Sas Rose

1

PART I

Lecture XXXIII: "Femininity" (1933)

Sigmund Freud

7

PART II

Discussion of "Femininity"

1 Femininity and the Oedipus complex

Nancy Kulish & Deanna Holtzman

35

2	Contemporary views on femininity, gender, and generative identity Joan Raphael-Leff	56
3	The analyst's meta-theories concerning sexual difference and the feminine Leticia Glocer Fiorini	79
4	Vicissitudes of the feminine dimension in men and bisexuality in the analytic situation Thierry Bokanowski	97
5	The limitations of Freud's 1933 bisexual hypothesis to explain impediments to creativity in a woman Barbara S. Rocah	112
6	The riddle of the repudiation of femininity: the scandal of the feminine dimension Jacqueline Schaeffer	129
7	Are women still in danger of being misunderstood? Graciela Abelin-Sas Rose	144
8	Autonomy and womanhood Mary Kay O'Neil	160
9	The psychoanalyst's implicit theories of gender Emilce Dio Bleichmar	177
10	Femininity and the human dimension Mariam Alizade	198
11	The persistence of tradition in the unconscious of modern Korean women Mikyum Kim	212
	REFERENCES	231
	INDEX	251